

RECLAIM THE NIGHT

Join us for a march to demand safety from sexual violence against women. We gather to reclaim the basic human rights to be free and safe at all times, in all spaces.

We will conclude with a silent flower vigil to acknowledge survivors of sexual violence and to commemorate the women, children and men who have been killed as a result of sexual violence.

Friday, October 28th 2016

From 5:30pm at James Cook University – Education Central

Please create and bring your own placards, banners and flowers to walk with.

March is women and children only. Men are invited to stand along the march route and to wear purple in solidarity.
